

BIG TEN CONFERENCE HEADQUARTERS

RATIO

The new Big Ten Headquarters will be a modern facility with an exciting mix of amenities for staff and visitors alike. The building's ground floor will feature the Big Ten Experience, an interactive multimedia attraction celebrating the organization's legends and leaders. A high-end restaurant located within the facility will offer visitors and staff the opportunity to relax and collaborate with one another after an afternoon spent in the exhibit. The headquarters' second floor will feature a robust, technologically-advanced conferencing center for Big Ten member institutions to use. Administrative offices and the officiating command center will be located on the building's third floor.

The building's design balances the organization's collegiate academics and athletics identity with the professional image associated with a corporate headquarters building. Its exterior design connects to a legacy of Chicago architectural styles through forms and materials, while at the same time extends those styles with a contemporary interpretation. Warm terra cotta is juxtaposed with the strength and crisp lines of expressed structure. At night, the transparency of two-story glass wall will showcase a Big Ten mural inside the building. The new headquarters building is also being sustainably designed to gain LEED certification.
